

Tariq Farid

SAYS

- "Sports are my passion, and I put a lot of effort into my athletic pursuits."
- "I aim to boost my mental skills through programming."
- "I want to create fun movies using code."
- "I wish I could learn programming independently."

THINKS

- "Sports bring me joy and help me stay physically fit."
- "Programming can enhance my mental skills and problem-solving abilities."
- "Creating fun movies with code could be an exciting creative outlet."
- "I find complex programming concepts daunting but am eager to learn."

DOES

- Tariq actively trains and participates in sports to be a professional athlete.
- He spends time with his baby sister, nurturing their relationship.
- He seeks programming activities to enhance his mental skills.
- He explores opportunities for independent learning, where possible

FEELS

- His baby sister's presence brings him joy and a sense of responsibility.
- He is excited about the programming to enhance his mental skills.
- The idea of creating fun movies with code brings a sense of creative
- Complex programming concepts may be intimidating.

